Geroskipou is a coastal town east of Paphos and is the second largest municipality in the District. This village has a number of characteristics, namely its remarkable five-domed Byzantine Church of Agia Paraskevi, a folk museum and large traditional square. The area is also known for the production of Turkish Delight, or lokum as its known locally. There are plenty of shops, kiosks, restaurants and bars in this village as well as many areas of secluded coastline.
